This is nasty as HELL! Bedbugs are one thing but other people's fluids are on it most likely too. O.O bURN MARKS? WHAT ELSE? These people are making a killing off of discarded mattress that most likely are being picked up off the street during bulk day. I thought it was illegal to take those tags off that really come from the manufacturer anyway. Either way, NASTY!

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (WJBK) - It's a Problem Solver story that gave people the creeps -- an exposé of the refurbished mattress business. A Detroit family is now getting some help thanks to our story.

Rob says this family thought they were buying new mattresses. That's the scary part about refurbished mattresses. They look brand new.

Del and her kids now have three real brand new mattresses. It was all done by a good guy named Jeff from Mattress to Go. He's just a small businessman who saw our story and wanted to make sure Del and her kids weren't sleeping on anything except nice, clean, new beds inside and out.

In his video report, Rob also shows you what was inside Del's old mattresses.

This looks personal between you and the yellow tag. Many stores sell refurbished mattresses with the white tags and you haven't once mentioned them. I purchased mattresses with a white secondhand material tag and had to throw them out because they were disgusting. I purchased soe with yelllow tags for me aand my kids ad haven't had a problem. Why are the white tags not being investigated?

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (WJBK) - It's a Problem Solver story that gave people the creeps -- an exposé of the refurbished mattress business. A Detroit family is now getting some help thanks to our story.

Rob says this family thought they were buying new mattresses. That's the scary part about refurbished mattresses. They look brand new

Del and her kids now have three real brand new mattresses. It was all done by a good guy named Jeff from Mattress to Go. He's just a small businessman who saw our story and wanted to make sure Del and her kids weren't sleeping on anything except nice, clean, new beds inside and out.

In his video report, Rob also shows you what was inside Del's old mattresses.

This looks personal between you and the yellow tag. Many stores sell refurbished mattresses with the white tags and you haven't once mentioned them. I purchased mattresses with a white secondhand material tag and had to throw them out because they were disgusting. I purchased soe with yelllow tags for me aand my kids ad haven't had a problem. Why are the white tags not being investigated?

If you drive on Plymouth between Telegraph and Middlebelt you will find couple other stores selling refurbished mattresses and the owners are not Muslims. How do you explain that? I am wondering why rob picked ONLY on that Mattress store where he could also visited the other store just couple miles away. From all the above comments you are the only one bringing religion into this discussion. Cannot believe how dumb you are. What a sick fella.... just say something useful next time and keep religion on the side.
